Hi David,

Yes, I would say that we do need to reimpose the second condition, updating it to include the later report. From a purely ecology view, the David Leach report contains some useful detail and it is awkward that the later report doesn't explicitly draw on that one.

As long as the works are carried out in accordance with the later report and are carried out by a competent contractor then we are good.

Hope that helps?

Tristan Norton

Coronavirus (Covid-19)

Hampshire County Council's response to the Covid-19 is available here (<https://www.hants.gov.uk/socialcareandhealth/coronavirus>).

In line with Government advice to reduce non-essential travel and work from home where possible, Ecology officers are now working remotely. Whilst we will endeavour to conduct our services in a timely manner and to meet statutory timescales where we can, there may be some impact to the services we deliver. We will ensure that we keep all applicants / interested parties informed of any further impacts to our services should they arise. The Council's response also means that no non-essential site visits or face to face meetings will be undertaken until further notice. Essential and contractual surveys may continue take place where there is no risk to the surveyor or the public, and in line with Government advice. This will be reviewed on an on-going basis.

Hampshire Services offers a range of professional consultancy services to partner organisations.

Specialist Environment Services provides data, advice and assessments for ecology, heritage and landscape.
