This is a black and white architectural elevation drawing of a two-story house. The house features a gabled roof with a chimney on the left side. The second floor has five windows: three on the left and two on the right. The first floor has a central entrance door flanked by two windows on each side. The drawing uses hatching to indicate different materials or shadows. The text 'Roof' is visible in the top right corner of the image.

An architectural elevation drawing of a two-story house. The house features a gabled roof with a white finish. The exterior walls are clad in horizontal siding. On the second floor, there are five rectangular, double-hung windows. The first floor has a central entrance with a white door and a small transom window above it. The entrance is flanked by two large, double-hung windows. To the left of the main house, there is a smaller, dark-colored structure with a gabled roof. The entire drawing is rendered in black lines on a white background, with some areas filled with dark gray to represent shadows or different materials.
