Subject: The Manor - skirting board

Good evening Leslie

I spoke with David Eaves in the planning department yesterday and part of the discussion was re the Skirting Boards

Here are 3 photos taken from a sample of the original skirting that is currently with my carpentry workshop ready for a cutter to be made up to match exactly as original

As I originally informed you the skirting will be pretty much the last item to go down as this needs to be on top of the new flooring as having underfloor heating - we need the expansion gap

I will give you a call late morning as I need to update United Trust Bank as soon as possible.

Kind regards
Richard
The Manor
