

This architectural site plan illustrates a residential development. The complex features several interconnected rectangular buildings. A central building is flanked by smaller structures, some of which contain square symbols representing windows or doors. A large, irregularly shaped area on the left is filled with a stippled pattern, indicating a landscaped or green space, and contains a car icon. A curved road or path borders this green area. To the right, two cars are parked side-by-side. A long, narrow strip of green space, also stippled, runs along the bottom edge of the buildings, featuring a row of circular tree symbols. The entire plan is rendered in black lines on a white background, with green spaces and some window details highlighted in light green.
