

The old sectional concrete garage, which was closer to the boundary with the adjacent property than the replacement timber shed (west elevation)

The old sectional concrete (prefabricated) garage and the existing garden shed (south elevation)

South elevation of the timber garden building

South elevation of the timber garden building and garden shed

West elevation of the timber garden building