

Dear Ms Donophy,

Planning Application APP/19/01258 The Manor, Edward Gardens, Havant, PO9 3JJ

Thank you for your consultation. I would not raise any below ground archaeological issues.

It is clear from the Heritage Statement that much has been revealed about the buildings origins and development, through the archaeology of the building itself, during the preparation for this planning application and this has informed an understanding of the significance of the building and the impacts of the works. Should the works reveal further evidence of the buildings origins a record of it might be made, but I would defer to your conservation officer as to whether such a provision merited the burden of a planning condition or merely amounts to an aspiration that such a record be used to inform significance for future works at a future date.

Yours sincerely
