

Good morning.

Thank you for your time today, we were incredibly grateful. I just wanted to send a photo to support my argument of the sun coming directly through the area my neighbour proposes to build. This was at 10:40am this morning. Not long after our meeting.

Should the proposed building be approved we will undoubtedly lose all light for the whole of the morning at least.

With our young family wanting to play in the garden at this time of the day, and the thought that they will be in darkness upsets us greatly.

Please consider this in your decision.

I would be very grateful if you could confirm receipt of this email.

Thank you again.
