Comments

Principal Conservation Officer No objection

The approach to satellite dishes, air conditioning units and other ephemeral fixtures is to try to accommodate where possible, but in locations that have least visual impact on the building - in hidden valleys, on modern outbuildings, ground or pole mounted within an enclosed rear garden etc.

In this case as the proposed satellite dish and air conditioning units are located on areas of flat roofing that are out of sight from public realm. It is therefore considered that the proposals would have little visual impact on the conservation area and the host building and is acceptable.
