

This technical map illustrates a residential area in London, featuring streets such as Coleridge Gardens, Ruskin Way, and Masefield Crescent. The map is overlaid with a grid of dashed lines and colored lines (red, blue, green) representing different utility networks. Numerous numbered markers (e.g., 6704, 6705, 6706) and symbols (e.g., green crosses, red dots) indicate specific locations or features. The map also shows building footprints, a subway station (Sub Sta), and various other landmarks.
