

I think it is justified. All I am requesting is a (short) strategy for dealing with the removal of vegetation (in case there are residual reptiles) and other measures such as the use of native plantings. It is just to add specific (and therefore enforceable) detail to the broader ecological recommendations made in the ecology report.

Hope that helps?

Tristan

Tristan Norton

Senior Ecologist
Ecology Team