

Many thanks for your email we await your comments following your meeting with your team leader.

With regards to the skiff, I can confirm that my client is an enthusiast and not an expert and any maintenance would be of that of an easy, basic nature which could involve minor repair and damage. It is worth reiterating that the main purpose of the garage is for storage of the skiff and not necessary for repair. Mr Lewis uses his skiff for lifeboat training (20 years as crew and Senior Helm) any major repair work which may be required is carried out off site and not the application site. I trust that clarifies the situation.

Kind regards.

Jimmy Bessant
JB Architecture