Comment Reasons:

Comment:"THE TREE" has been a topic of conversation over the years since we moved to the Island in 1998, already "Huge" and considered a danger then, it has STILL not been attended to - during high winds (which are more frequent these days) debris litter our driveway - the lowest branches overhang nearby properties and being Oak,are very heavy should they fall - irrespective of recent departmental "visits", it is plain to see this tree is in dire need of a significant "Reduction", the suggestion of a "Lift" to lower overhanging branches is irresonsible considering the size and previous lack of attention.

As has already been stated in a previous "Comment", 60% Reduction ? I do hope someone finally see's sense and makes a potentially life saving decision to reduce this thing.
