

St Faith's House, The Pallant, Havant.

(Also known as 'Pallant House' and 'The Pallant Centre')

Design and Access Statement

Design

In seeking to promote the community programmes of the Pallant Centre (incorporating St Faith's House), the PCC has tried to develop signage which is informative, not overly 'garish', and in sympathy with the building. This is achieved by:

- a) matching the background colour of the signage with the base-colour of walls – thereby emphasising the writing on the signs, not the signs themselves.
- b) placing two of the signs in pre-bricked window alcoves – so that the alcoves act as natural frames.

Access

There are few access issues related to this application – except to note that prominent, bright signage is of help to the partial sighted who seek out the building for community interaction.

Canon Tom Kennar

Rector of St Faiths – on behalf of the Parochial Church Council