Comment Reasons:

Comment: I live opposite this bungalow.

Main concern is PARKING. Even now I have to remind drivers not to park opposite my drive. It makes it extremely difficult to get out of & into my property. (repeated reminders fall on deaf ears) Inhurst Avenue is a narrow road & number 28, my home, is on a bend. Opposite my drive entrance seems to be a magnet for parking cars with NO THOUGHT to me getting into & out of my drive. When a van or lorry parks there I have no chance.

When this development takes place I know that workers, delivery lorries & vans will park there. I really do not want to upset anyone, including me, so do not want to continually go over the road & ask them to move.

I would prefer it if something permanent can be done about this, maybe yellow lines for a small distance ? Please advise.

Also with the bungalows here being allowed so many bedrooms, 4, then there is likely to be even more cars. Has anyone given this any thought. I moved here among OAPS for peace & quiet.

Where are all these cars going to park ? Probably on the road outside my drive !

TO SUM UP.

1) Why allow so many bedrooms in this quiet area with narrow roads ? There are many developments nearby with more bedrooms.

2) Has anyone given thought to how many cars this will bring to Inhurst Avenue & the extra pollution it will bring, what thoughts are there ?

3) Where will all these cars park ?

4) Would it be possible to put double yellow lines opposite my drive entrance so that my access is clear at all times ?

Please advise re the above.

Please confirm receipt.
