Kiln dried Sawfelling I-IV grade Siberian Larch channel cladding. This product is planed smooth on the exposed face and is machined with stress relief grooves on the reverse to increase stability. Our Siberian Larch cladding is quality controlled by the Federation of European Planing Mills (VEH) to a consistent grading standard.

With 'channel' cladding the profile of each board overlaps that of the board next to it creating a channel that gives shadow line effects, provides excellent weather protection and allows for dimensional movement.
