Hi Denise,

I've had a look at this application and there is not information provided concerning the tree protection measures to be applied to be in accordance with BS5837(2012).

The submitted AIA clearly shows the development and the area surrounding the development with the RPA of the adjacent trees. The RPA could therefore be used for storage of materials, mixing of materials, compaction of ground to undertake the works, which could all have an adverse impact on the trees and could be easily controlled by applying the principles of BS5837 in an updated AIA and AMS. The authority has never raised the issue of pruning the crown, the concern is the root protection area as shown in the submitted plan.

My last day is Wednesday.

If I receive revised documents before then I will happily consider it.

Thanks
Peter
