

Re Planning application 66 Staunton Avenue

Dear Sirs,

I write in connection with the proposed application for an extension to the property which is next door to our residence. The proposal will entirely change the natural light afforded to our main living spaces which as (redacted) is where we spend many hours of the day. It will also be an invasion of our privacy should any overlooking windows be included. We believe the lack of natural light, and heat lost in the event our light is effectively 'blacked out' may also be detrimental to our health and happiness, and even result in higher costs to heating which are difficult enough at this time. We have been rate payers at the property for over 40 years and believe that such an extension to what an enormous property is not needed and should therefore be refused.

My son (Redacted) has written this letter on my behalf and will copy his email into the process in order to help with explanation to us who are not entirely computer literate. We have become confused when trying to view the planning drawings and what is actually going to take place, therefore a lay-man's explanation may be of benefit. I am (Redacted), we have found the process quite distressing thus far.
