Thank you for the amended details, wherein there is a very worrying detail. I refer to the changing the height of space between the ground and building above. Is it their intention to dig up the footpath? As we explained in our earlier comments this was deliberately heightened to fend off flooding.

You only have to stand in Bridge Road and look down the community pathway to see that nos. 4,3,2, and 1 are below Bridge Road. Only two days ago flood warnings were delivered by phone to homes on Bridge Road suggesting we should move our cars. This service happens a number of times.

A southern storm wind, persistent rain, the millpond full, a recipe for flooding as has already happened.

Also can i reiterate that the extension to the side of the roof and added structure will act as a shield and obliterate late afternoon and evening sunshine., how gloomy is that.

A further consideration is how people both homeowners and home deliveries, trades people and medical, also dustbin collectors, gardeners, tree surgeons, window cleaners how they will manage to get through the considerable upheaval in the destruction of what is there at present through to the erection of what is planned to be.
