Good morning Daphney, I am sorry about the delay in replying I have had a few days leave. The report that you have sent me was the original desk based assessment. I have been sent the report of the evaluation results (which is what I was referring to in my previous email) by the archaeological contractor, but I have no record of having received it from the Borough Council. I have attached it here, along with my comments. My only comment was that the LPA was Havant and not East Hampshire as it states which is a minor point that doesn't effect the fact that in its archaeological essence it is satisfactory. I am not sure if this has been formally submitted to you by the applicant.

In any event I can confirm that the attached report forwarded to me by the archaeological contractor is satisfactory. The results of the archaeological evaluation were negative and do not imply the need for any further archaeological work. On that basis I would not raise any archaeological objection to the discharge of the archaeological condition.

Yours sincerely
