Dear Mr Cantwell,

Application 14/01164 Small Scale Solar Array, Manor Farm, Manor Road, Hayling Island

Thank you for your recent consultation. The proposal involves single post intrusion associated with each panel and a 40 metre length of buried cable. The ground impacts of the proposal are limited, and in terms of pile driven posts not archaeologically monitorable. There are no known archaeological sites currently recorded within the location (although a Mesolithic axe has been found) and the impact is small scale and dispersed (pin cushion for want of a better phrase). On that basis I would not raise any archaeological issues.

Yours sincerely
