Medium

Our medium clay tiles are one of the best known and most widely used natural colours in our range. They are ideal for new high calibre buildings and will without a doubt make your building look outstanding. Although essentially one colour, our medium tile has subtle shade variations caused by the traditional firing methods.

Guaranteed to a minimum roof pitch of 35 degrees*, makes our Developer handmade range suitable for the most complex of roof designs.

All our roof tiles are tested with our in house laboratory facility to meet current British standards – BS EN 538 Flexural strength, BS EN 539-1 Impermeability & BS EN 539-2 Frost resistance, we then further test them independently with Ceram, a global expert in material testing and analysis, approved by both UKAS and the British standards institute.

Additional Information

The tiles are complimented by eaves, gables, half round and hogs back ridges, universal valley tiles, bonnet hips, and external angle tiles for vertical tiling.
