Dear Mr Cantwell,

Discharge of Archaeological Condition Attached to Application 12/00338

Thank you for your recent consultation. I would refer you to the original archaeological consultation response attached. The archaeological condition is intended to secure a preliminary archaeological survey and the mitigation of impact of the development on archaeological remains revealed by that survey. It is a two stage approach. The WSI submitted, which I would endorse to you, secures the preliminary archaeological survey. I understand that this survey may be implemented in November. The subsequent archaeological work, if any, will be described based on the results of this survey and subject to an agreed WSI for that work. The planning authority is not yet in a position to review this matter until the results of the evaluation are available. On that basis I would not recommend that the archaeological condition is discharged as it is not yet clear what subsequent archaeological works are needed nor has that mitigation been described and submitted in a WSI.

Yours sincerely
