1 Site Description

The application property is a two storey semi-detached dwelling of buff brick construction with pitched, tiled roof. There is off road parking to the front with most of the garden space for the dwelling to the side.

The dwelling sits at the entrance of a small cul-de-sac off of the main road of Battens Way. The cul-de-sac is made up of two pairs of semi-detached dwellings on both sides of the cul-de-sac entrance, whilst the remaining dwellings within the cul-de-sac are single storey terraced bungalows.

The main road of Battens Way is made up of two storey semi-detached and terraced dwellings, similar in architectural style and appearance. The gable end of 46 Battens Way faces the main road.

7 Planning Considerations

(i) Principle of development

The site is within the urban area of Havant, therefore the proposed development is acceptable in principle subject to satisfying the criteria of the policies listed in section 4 of this report.

(ii) Impact on the character and appearance of the area

The development, as proposed, has been designed to reflect the scale and built form of the host dwelling. It was observed that the same approach had been adopted on the two storey side extension carried out on the semi-detached dwelling opposite (74 Battens Way). Although it is considered that the dwellings do not have the same relationship with the main Battens Way street scene.

The current proposal would see the gable end of the dwelling extended towards the main Battens Way frontage, giving the dwelling more prominence within the street scene. It is however noted that there would be a 5m set back from the side boundary. This set back would be in line with the general building line found along this side of Battens Way.

It would be normal practice to seek a subservient form of extension to the side of a dwelling, particularly that of a two storey property. However, as mentioned above this approach has not been adopted in a similar scheme immediately opposite the site. In this instance, having regard to the built form along Battens Way, which includes both semi-detached and terraced dwellings, it is considered that the extension as proposed would be more suitable. The extension would retain the prevailing built character and form of the area whereas a subservient extension would be more likely to stand out and detract from the general uniformity prevalent along Battens Way. In this instance it is considered that the premise of each application must be assessed on its own merits and that it would not be appropriate to impose a reduced addition.

The development would therefore accord with the principles and objectives of policy

CS16 of the Havant Borough (Core Strategy) Local Development Framework 2011.

(iii) Effect on the neighbouring properties

The two storey side addition would be positioned some 22m from the dwellings to the west (flank elevation to front elevation), 40m from those opposite (to the north) and 15m from the dwelling to the rear (44 Battens Way - rear to flank relationship).

Having regard to the built relationship between the extension and existing dwellings, separation distances between the proposal and neighbouring dwellings and the fact that the first floor rear window would serve a bathroom it is not considered that the development would allow for unacceptable levels of overlooking, loss of privacy, overbearing effect, loss of light or overshadowing.

The development would therefore accord with the principles and objectives of policy CS16 of the Havant Borough (Core Strategy) Local Development Framework 2011.

8 Conclusion

The development by reason of its scale, design and relationship to immediate neighbours would not result in matters prejudicial to neighbour amenity or harm the prevailing character and appearance of the area. The application is therefore recommended for approval.
