Dear Mr Vine

As discussed David Eaves has asked me to confirm a few points.

I would be grateful if you could confirm via return email my understanding of the following

- All vehicles to be kept within the garage are your own private vehicles, all collectors cars (pre war MG's) and no commercial vans

- The Storage at first floor level is for general storage of tools and household equipment and only domestic items and not in any way for commercial items
- That works to cars in terms of assembly and general maintenance only will take place and this will involve some mechanical equipment, the noisiest of which is likely to be a hydraulic torque wrench
- Works to the cars will be carried out only inside the existing garage and only by yourself or perhaps a friend if required occasionally

Many thanks

Kind regards
