Daphney,

I have taken a look at this and confirm we are happy to go to 2m above FFL.

We just want to get daylight into the bathroom and see a little sky, and we will still be able to achieve this at 2m.

Best,
Ruth

Why you think permission should or should not be given: We are concerned about the proposal to modify Condition 6 of the original planning permission granted. This was included to preserve the privacy of neighbouring properties. To limit the obscuration of the bathroom window to only 1.8m is insufficient. Although this is above the height of the 'eye line' of the average person, for many tall people, it is not. The obscuration should therefore be at least to a height of 1.9m, preferably to 2.0m.
