Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the Portsdown Hill planning application. I have no adverse comments to make about the development per se but would like to flag up the need for a contribution from the developer to provide additional primary age pupils in the area. The schools in the area are forecast to be full over the next couple of years and will remain so for the foreseeable future. The contribution sought will be in line with the County Council's Developer Contribution Policy of £5,057 per "eligible" dwelling. An eligible dwelling constitutes 2+ bedrooms. For the purpose of this response I am assuming that all dwellings being proposed are eligible dwellings and will be seeking a contribution of £232,622 towards the cost of additional primary places. I will not be seeking a contribution towards the expansion of the secondary sector as Warblington School has surplus places.

Kind regards,
Martin Shefferd
