Tina,

This relates to the previous application, but also the current changes. After a lot of searching we have had trouble getting hold of the huge number (around 10000) tiles needed for the new roof. We can't seem to find the quantity of reclaimed tiles we need that are all of the same type and colouration. Because of this we have found a new tile which is a match for a reclaimed tile. This is the Fired Sienna tile. Images of this are below. I will bring some samples in for you. I will call you later to discuss this. The number I have for you is: 02392 446461

Kind Regards,
