To whom it may concern

I am writing to express my support for D & I Foods café, a small business on the same business park as us.

Since the café opened here, it has drawn people together and provided a sense of community and a place for the various businesses to get to know each other and find out what services each offers.

Debbie and Ian provide a really useful service in this area, offering a wide range of drinks, snacks, meals and takeaway food, not just for the people working in the businesses here but also visitors and delivery drivers. Before the café was here, there was nowhere within walking distance of the business park to nip out to on a break from the office.

I believe the café is an important part of this business community now.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing in support of a local business (D&I Foods) which over the past year have become an integral part of our business community.

I have worked in this area for over 10 years and have always stressed the need for an eatery of their sort to be introduced into our business park.

They offer not just great food but a place where I can entertain customers away from the office.

Also being a customer of ours I feel it's only right that we offer them support as like any business without our customers we have no business.

The introduction of both Ian and Debbie to our area is having such a positive impact on all of the businesses in our area in a positive way as many people would not even know certain companies here existed if they hadn't been eating at the café.

In a current climate when thousands of businesses fail each year I can only commend (D&I Foods) for the ability to adapt to their customers' needs

Please if any further information is required please do not hesitate to contact me.

Best regards

To Whom It May Concern,

As the minister of the local Evangelical Church in Leigh Park, it is of utmost importance that I keep my finger on the pulse of the local community. Since D and I moved into the area there has been a decided difference to the atmosphere of our little part of Leigh Park. Without a doubt, a change for the good.

To have a place where someone can just stop in for a chat and a coffee at almost any time of the day is a tremendous blessing. I, personally, have met a fair number of new acquaintances since D&I moved in.

Our Church now exclusively use D&I to prepare all of the sandwiches for all of our evening Sunday teas. Everyone who comes along (and many of them are not a part of the congregation) comment on how wonderful the sandwiches are. It provides an excellent point of contact with new people.

D&I have provided something that was most certainly lacking in our community - a place to gather and enjoy one another.

The loss of D&I would be a loss to all of the community, both to young and old.

Yours Sincerely,

Rev. Glen Galbraith
