Dear Madam

Thanks for letting me know that the plan has been amended.
I have viewed the new plans online and I can see that the glass privacy panels are suitable and acceptable.

The Privacy panel on the north side adjacent No 22 is also appropriate because it also provides privacy from Number 22

Missing from the updated plans is the Balustrade complying to the materials stipulations that I was told to comply with. My original question is still unanswered i.e. why would you allow a balustrade to be made of wood when I was told categorically that was not allowed and that I must use 316 stainless steel and safety glass? I have complied with these materials stipulations at great expense and I had to abandon the wooden balustrade that I had planned. I would like to know why it is acceptable at one property and not another? Have there been changes in building material regulations that affect this matter?

Sincerely

Stephan James
