Dear Sir.

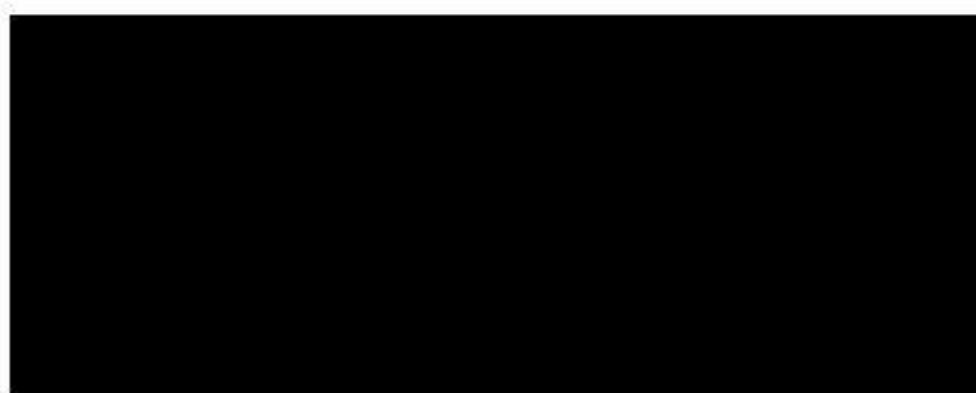

Planning Application for Tamarisk APP/15/01355

The proposed design for the new building at Tamarisk is out of place. It is too large and over dominant for the area and site and not sympathetic to the adjacent buildings including Spindrift. The terrace evades our privacy as it overlooks the garden of Spindrift.

The planning for the new building at Spindrift five years ago stipulated the new house must not extend beyond the North or South building line of Sinah House or the existing building.

I urge the Havant Borough council Planning Department to look at the proposed design more closely and give it greater consideration.

Yours sincerely

Bruce Battersby
