Dear Tim

Marketing Undertaken – 55 High Street, Emsworth

We write with regard to the application you are due to submit in respect of the subject premises. You have asked us to consider what marketing has been undertaken and provide you with a brief report outlining this, together with our conclusions on the current market conditions for this type of property.

We have reviewed and analysed the promotional activity undertaken by Flude Commercial, which we set out below. We can demonstrate that a structured and proactive marketing approach has been followed in order to try and achieve a suitable letting of the vacant building under its current planning use.

Flude Commercial

Flude Commercial Chartered Surveyors was established in 1996 and now comprises 21 staff over two offices in Brighton and Chichester. We are an established firm with a strong and well respected presence within the regional commercial property market.

Flude Commercial provide a quality professional service and offer a full range of commercial property services, which include agency, lease advisory, management, rating, valuation, investment & development advice.

Background and Property Description

The property is located in Emsworth and is situated at the southern end of High Street at its junctions with Queen Street. The property comprises a Grade II Listed building which arranged over three floors providing a total area of 1,037 sq ft. The current planning use only permits the premises to be used as a dentists.

Prior to our involvement we understand that the previous tenant Envisage Dental begun marketing the building in October 2015. They advertised the premises to let by way of a signboard in the window which read 'Commercial Premises – To Let' and provided contact details for interested parties. Despite advertising the premises for period of almost 12 months no substantive interest was forthcoming and Park Mount Estates Limited by mutual agreement took a surrender of the lease held by Envisage Dental.

In October 2016 Park Mount Estates Limited appointed Flude Commercial to market the premises and identify a new commercial tenant.

Interest and Feedback

Since our instruction the property has continued to be marketed, but remains vacant and available.

The internal layout of the premises being arranged as a number of small spaces over multiple floors has been cited as being an issue for the various parties that inspected. The restricted planning use has also hindered marketing even though the landlord is happy to consider alternatives uses, subject to planning.

The landlord has been flexible in their approach and during the marketing campaign the quoting rent has been reduced a number of times. This did not generate any further interest. They have also been open to shorter lease terms in order to try and secure a tenant.

We have three genuine enquiries who received the details and viewed the premises, but these failed to progress for various reasons as mention above such as layout, planning and location within Emsworth.

Marketing Summary

During the marketing period, we have initiated and undertaken the following marketing activities and have summarised these under specific headings.

Letting Brochure/Agency Particulars

From the outset of the instruction to the present time, we have produced and provided potentially interested parties with our designed and professionally printed colour brochures which we have included copies of in Appendix A.

These have been regularly mailed as described below and sent out in response to specific enquiries we have received. They are held electronically and are generally emailed to prospective parties and followed up to establish their degree of interest and feedback.

Advertising

The majority of our applicant interest comes from the internet, either through our own website or through other websites we use to market property.

Information has been included on our own company website since the inception of the marketing campaign. We also subscribe to the following commercial property websites where the details have also been advertised:

- Commercial Property Database
- Perfect Information Property
- CoStar
- Zoopla
- Estates Gazette

We have enclosed copies of the adverts in Appendix B.

Mailing

This has formed a large element of our marketing campaign and usually produces the best results. We have targeted local, regional and national occupiers as well as commercial property agents within Sussex, Hampshire, the South East of England and London.

We have undertaken the following mailshots on a monthly basis:

- Business space and retail applicants registered on our database (via email)
- Commercial agents in Sussex and Hampshire (via email)
- Commercial agents who cover London and the South East (via email)

We have enclosed an example of a mail shot in Appendix C.

Telephone Canvassing

We have undertaken telephone promotion to both occupiers and agents in an attempt to generate a positive response to our advertising and mailing.

Site Boards

Since the initial marketing of this property a signboard was placed in the properties shop front which read: "Commercial Premises – To Let" and provided contact details for interested parties. We have also had a board in the window at various times. Photos of which are in Appendix D.

Marketing Feedback/Re-Appraisal of Marketing Strategy

On a frequent basis and generally on a monthly basis, we have met or discussed with our client new enquiries, on-going interest and to discuss various promotional ideas to generate new leads and maintain the market awareness.

Conclusions

In conclusion, a concerted, proactive and targeted campaign has been conducted by Flude Commercial, utilising their extensive local, regional and national network. The promotional activity employed and the marketing budget applied to the disposal has been commensurate with the scale and marketplace of the building being offered.

The freeholder has been realistic and not overly ambitious with their expectations on rental value, and indeed has been offering competitive terms and financial incentives to attract tenants.

Yours sincerely

Sebastian Martin BSc (Hons) AssocRICS
