Dear Ms Chisnall

Application no: App.17-101111

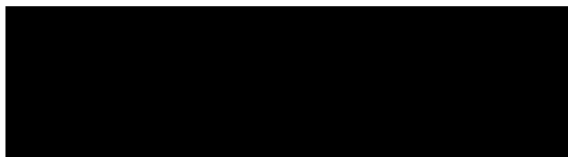

I wish you to record my objections to the proposed changes to the exterior of no. 5 Orange Row. This pleasant location at the end of South Street was planned as a coherent whole, around an attractive cobbled courtyard by a highly creative architect.

The different sizes and facades of buildings in Orange Row have been managed by a clever design scheme which first unifies them and then subtly ties Orange Row, via the addition of an arch and dark blue edging bricks beneath, into its coastal location.

The use of black for window frames and garage doors against white walls or brickwork, is simple, very effective and easy to maintain. The introduction of different colours will conflict with this co-ordinated approach. One has to decide if one individual house or a group of buildings is to be the important or defining feature of Orange Row.

I have been in Orange Row for twenty years and find it is attractive as it is. Any change to the exterior of no. 5 will have to be much more sympathetic to Orange Row to be acceptable.

Yours faithfully

Glenys Thomas
