Dear Mrs Haywood,

Further to the comments we provided earlier on the application at 70 Havant Road we would like to make further comment on the safety aspect of the access drive. Our previous comments highlighted the high frequency of the accidents through the series of bends on Havant Road and how this should ensure that the design guidance of MfS and MfS2 are applied with full rigour and without concession.

It is unfortunate that a further accident has occurred this evening on the first bend approaching from the south at the junction with Castleman Lane, adding to the list of statistics on this road. I understand these incidents are reported to the transport team, but I doubt this would be done so within the application period.

Whilst this incident is not immediately adjacent to the proposal site, it is characteristic of the carelessness and excessive speed some drivers take through these corners. It reinforces our concerns about adding a new driveway serving a number of houses, in a location which has hampered sight lines and a high frequency of accidents.

I trust you will give these further comments due consideration.

With regards,

Andy Young + Nicola Crowson
