We want to object to all the planning applications.

We didn't used to hear much noise from the site which butts up to our fence but over the last couple of years we have heard ever such a lot more noise.

We have also had to put up with the smell of paint and had to close our windows and bring in the washing.

I don't understand exactly what the letters mean but what I don't want is lots of businesses making lots of noise and smells. They have been working at all hours during the week and over weekends and bank holidays. We want to enjoy our retirement in peace and don't want an industrial park next door.

I think that having more sheds will only mean that more people will work there and they will make it more noisy.

They shouldn't have built them and been working in them in the first place especially as they didn't get any planning.

Regards,
