

I spoke to you recently about the wall w [REDACTED]

When we purchased this house a barn was attached to that wall, but we were not allowed to change its use to a dwelling, but were allowed to pull it down and rebuild. The reason my extension was built inside the wall and not on top of it ,is because it was not thought stable enough to support a new structure.
I feel sure you must take this into consideration when making your decision .
