Hi Rob,

There's not enough to go on here – the images provided do indeed show some eaves areas that appear unsuitable, but the proposal entail the removal of the large dormer covered in hanging tiles. I am also unclear which roof voids have been inspected and by whom – I can't tell from those images whether there is any evidence of bats present.

If you have any queries, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,

Tristan

Rob,

Here are the site pictures which show that there are no trees withing falling distance of the proposed works, In terms of Bats I have also taken close ups of the eaves which shows they are completely closed and have been up in the loft void below the mansard roof and taken further pictures.

The main roof void is used as a dressing /storage space and I have shown a pictures of that also.

Best Regards
