For the attention of Michelle Houghton

I hope this is the information you require.

The concrete posts are pointed at the top which will add 2.3cm to the overall height, making a total elevation of 1.973m. Therefore, the total elevation will be 1.973m.

Attached are two photos, one of a lower fence but of similar construction to the one proposed, and one of the proposed height that is on our neighbours property. As stated previously, it will be feather edged panels as in the photographs.

I hope this gives you all the information you need.
