Dear Mr. Oliver,

Re: Application No. APP/17/00656

I am writing to object to this planning application for a Lidl on a green field site on Hayling. I am well aware of the few pro's to this development but will bullet point my reasons for objecting:

- building on a green field site (there are brown field sites on Hayling if you have to do this!)
- Lidl's are traditionally (here and abroad) on industrial estate) desecrating a ~~rural~~ rural area
- by a very busy road and round-a-bout and 3 schools (I am sure some parents will park in the shop carpark needing to traverse the said busy road with children ranging with from 0 to 11). (pre-school, Infant, Junior + Senior in St Mary's Road)
- local traders will suffer
- traffic in that area will increase dramatically
- building this shop will then mean you think it is ok to build more houses (e.g. plan of ^{QEA} Sarah Lane)

- utilities are struggling to cope on the island
∴ more development will be negative
- over water table will rise, compounding the flooding that puts the island at risk if 'flood' land is built on.
- this development will steer the island to be like Portsmouth. No green spaces. The Island is losing its unique character that make people want to live here.
- it's an ugly building in an inappropriate place
- traffic, polluting air will increase there

I do realise that councils are 'forced' by government to build but surely common sense that a single road, finite area needs no more development of any kind including the overpriced rabbit hutch retirement homes. Build a public swimming pool instead!

Yours Sincerely
