RECEIVED

Dear Ross,

Thank you for your email, planning application acknowledgement and today's telephone conversation.

I confirm that my concern about the term 'workshop' in the proposed development title is that it may be interpreted as something of a commercial nature.

I can assure all observers that the intention as originally described is to create a more ascetically pleasing building which would give a much needed practical mezzanine storage facility in addition to improved garaging for two vehicles. It will be used exclusively for domestic purposes which may also include partial use as a safe play room for children or other leisure pursuits such as craft/modelling hobbies. I would be happy for Havant Planning department to issue a notice restricting future use to solely domestic purposes should this be considered appropriate. I would also add that the east facing window is intended for natural light to enter a dark corner of the upper floor and to avoid this being seen as intrusive to neighbours a roof light could be installed as an alternative and the window removed.

Kind regards

Colin Fountain
