Hayling Island

RECEIVED

Dear Sir

My Sons and I have already voted for a Lidos to come to Hayling, we ~~stop~~ at the one in Park Parade so it would be lovely to have one here, [REDACTED] so my Sons have to do the shopping.

But I would like to aer my views.

I dont know about flooding I know in parts it does flood but where we live it is suppose to be the highest point on Hayling so I cant see there would be any trouble to Lidos. About traffic being trouble its a load of Bull (excuse me) when we had those but clays the cars were bumper to bumper coming on and going off the Island, so how can Lidos be blamed for that its not there yet? My Son works in New Lane Havant he finishes work at four o'clock each day. One day he arrived home at ten two six and another day at ten past six it took a Bus from Hayling twenty minutes to get across the bridge to get to Havant so I cant see how having a bridge would make that much difference it seems to me you are finding all the excuse ^{you can} ~~make~~ it being built. As for parking in Church road to do their shopping. I cant see anyone ^{carrying} ~~carrying~~ these shopping to their car? and anyway I was in my Son's Car the other day there were cars parked each side of the road ^{already} "Nothing to do with Lidge there is going to be a hundred or parking places I cant see it being full up in one go, some people will be coming from Manor Road and going in that way and if they do come from Church road it wont hold the traffic up for that long anymore than what its doing

3,

Now. Also I cant remember much just about a green field takes to build houses off of Tournebury Road Lane so why keep on about this one better a shop than loads of houses which would mean more cars to go of the Island. People who are against it are able to go off the Island to shop the shop needs competition there isnt a week goes by, there is something they havent got on my list, it needs some thing to buck them up. Those who I dont want a Lidy will be the first on over the door step even if it is only to be noisy they want to think that when they are older and cant drive they will welcome Lidy's like I will at my age. Also I think the bus is getting expensive

Thank you for reading this letter

I hope you take notice of what I have said

Yours Sincerely

a true Hayes Islander
