Dear Planning

I am writing this because as a resident of station road in fact directly across the road from the proposed development . I realize new housing is a must there is a shortage of affordable housing but there are a few things that worry me Why does there need to be industrial units ? The road is busy in the mornings and afternoons with deliveries made by very large HGV vehicles who take no notice of the double yellows .I have come to the conclusion that those double yellows are only applicable to private motorists . The road was not made for such large vehicles I am also concerned about the speeding traffic people use Station Road as a cut through to get down to the beach The roads n hayling are a race track if I bring your attention to last week 2 crashes one fatal luckily the double decker bus full of oaklands children was only 2 behind and got stuck on the bus until the area was safe and parents were able to collect . Not ideal if you are working off Island and stuck behind queuing traffic stuck behind a traffic incident Station Road needs speed bumps I feel as a council tax paying resident I have been kept in the dark I also feel there is a case of double standards parking attendants only man hayling during Warner times the double yellows are a joke I am dreading the building of this development the noise will be awful Plus all the vehicles involved The de constructive search was carried out without notification I had to go over and ask what they were doing . There was something wrong with the digger as it made the most dreadful high pitch squeak

76 houses well I do hope there will be adequate provisions made I don't think the Elms practice will cope it's hard enough to get an appointment as it is now I am worried about the congestion ,noise and general upheaval this will cause me and my family .

I am also concerned by the lack of communication to residents by Barrat Homes . You know it's going to be quite sad I can look out of my window on an early morning and see the dears running across the field I don't believe the roads on hayling can take this all it takes is one crash and the island comes to a standstill Maybe you should look at improving the infra structure before you add pressure to a road system that at points is busting Regards [REDACTED]
