Section 2: how does your scheme meet the definition of self/custom build?

You must meet all of the following conditions to qualify for an exemption as a self-build or custom build for BNG.

The development must:

- consist of no more than 9 dwellings
- be on a site that has an area no larger than 0.5 hectares
- consist exclusively of dwellings that are self-build or custom housebuilding as defined in section 1\(A1\) of the Self-build and Custom Housebuilding Act 2015

The Self-build and Custom Housebuilding Act 2015¹ defines what self-build and custom housebuilding is as follows:

(A1) In this Act “self-build and custom housebuilding” means the building or completion by—

(a) individuals,

(b) associations of individuals, or

(c) persons working with or for individuals or associations of individuals, of houses to be occupied as homes by those individuals.

(A2) But it does not include the building of a house on a plot acquired from a person who builds the house wholly or mainly to plans or specifications decided or offered by that person

The NPPF includes this definition:

Self-build and custom-build housing: Housing built by an individual, a group of individuals, or persons working with or for them, to be occupied by that individual. Such housing can be either market or affordable housing. A legal definition, for the purpose of applying the Self-build and Custom Housebuilding Act 2015 (as amended), is contained in section 1(A1) and (A2) of that Act.

The Right to Build Task Force says:

In simple terms, this form of housebuilding can be described as a process where “a home is built to the plans or specifications decided by the occupant”. When considering whether a home is a self-build or custom build home, relevant authorities must be satisfied that the initial owner of the home will have primary input into its final design and layout.

Self-build typically involves the construction of single (usually detached) homes, including conversion projects and extensive renovations (usually demolition or rebuild). Where individuals work as a group or association, it can also include the construction of higher density homes in the form of terraced housing or apartments if those homes are commissioned or built by those individuals.

Custom build involves the construction of homes, of all types and sizes, on serviced multiplot sites. With custom build, an enabling developer, which can be a local authority, community group, housing association or commercial developer, works with individuals or groups to specify the details of appearance and internal layouts of their homes. This may involve an element of DIY build or self-finish or can be full construction and finish of the home as specified by the home buyer.

A self-build home is one built to the plans or specifications of the occupant on a single plot.

A custom build home is built to the plans or specifications of the occupant on a multiplot site which is actively managed by a third-party enabler.

8. How does your scheme proposal meet the definition of self-build that is set out in the 2015 Act?

In answering this question, you may want to address the various parts of the definition and explain who will live in the dwelling and their involvement in the scheme, including any works which they may be involved in.

You may also want to address the various aspects of how the Right to Build Taskforce define this house building type.

PLEASE SET OUT YOUR ANSWER TO QUESTION 8 BELOW HERE

The proposed dwelling has been designed with significant input into the final design and specifications by the applicant to meet their needs and will be constructed for, and occupied by, the applicant.

9. As you have filled out this form saying that your scheme is self-build, we will need to amend the description of the planning application relevant to this proforma to say that it is for self/custom build. Please tick this box to acknowledge this. ☐

10. If permission is granted a legal agreement and monitoring fee to secure the provision of a self build scheme would be required. Please tick this box to acknowledge this. ☒

Please note:

If you are claiming self-build exemption form BNG you should also be submitting CIL form 7 with your planning application which you can find here on the planning portal:
