This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Details of the pre-application advice received

From Racheal McMurray MRTPI:

Based on the information provided in your email, I confirm the following:

Proposed solar panels – this would require listed building consent (LBC) and planning permission. I note that these would be on an extension to the historic part of the building however, the whole building is covered by the listing hence the need for LBC.

Proposed ASHP – this would require planning permission and potentially LBC if it is to be attached to the listed building.

Proposed internal works – these works would not require LBC so long as no structural alterations are required.

I note that one of your photos shows a red line across the exterior of the historic part of the listed building. Dependant on the thickness of this cabling, this may not be acceptable as it has potential to harm the historic character of the building.

Following the above advice, I have consulted my contractors who have confirmed that cabling can be run internally and therefore the cabling issue raised by Racheal, above, is mooted.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

(a) a member of staff

(b) an elected member

(c) related to a member of staff

(d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?

☐ Yes

☒ No
