Dear Lesley,

It is recommended that the application be refused due to insufficient noise information.

The proposed development adjoins a commercial premises (convenience store), which is likely to generate noise from external plant and delivery activities. These potential sources have not been assessed.

In addition, a public house is located nearby; however, no quantitative noise assessment has been provided to evaluate the potential impact on future occupiers of the proposed development.

The applicant has therefore failed to demonstrate, with sufficient supporting evidence, that future occupiers would not be exposed to adverse or significant adverse noise impacts arising from surrounding commercial uses

Kind regards,

Craig Milligan
